DAMAGING LINE OF EVIDENCE PRODUCED

A complete record of the court proceedings in the retail cases will be found on page four of this issue. That is that part of the proceedings that transpired between four P. M. last evening and the time that the wholesale applications were taken up. Following is a record of the proceedings in so far as the wholesale applications were concerned.

John J. Boyle was called and said his business amounted to $39,000 last year, about one-fourth of which was to licensed dealers. Did not think the 1915 rules applied in 1916. He was represented by Miller & Hartwick. Did not have his sales record. Sold some people without complete identification. Didn't label everything that he sent out. Obeyed the law and rules just as closely as possible. Drivers brought in few orders and credit was extended. Sold couple of cases of whiskey to Punxsutawney Elks club. Got no rules when he got his license this year and thought 1915 rules expired with his license. Shipped some goods to Sykesville and other Jefferson county points by trolley car when customer comes and gets goods. Might have shipped a few orders by express to Reynoldsville.

Ed Schwem, of E. D. Schwem & Co., represented by Miller & Hartwick, called. Receipts last year $59,889; about $10,000 to licensed dealers, a total increase of $18,000 over 1914. Understood rules of 1915 were in force in 1916. No limit in shipments to individuals. Had three drivers. Cave no percentage to agents and made no deliveries except by wagon and common carrier and had a splitter go to Tyler and Falls Creek. He took orders and after goods delivered collected the money.

Judge Bell said he made no restrictions regarding sales to residents of other counties; that the counties did not appreciate such rulings and would not cooperate.

W. A. Couse, representing C. A. Mead & Co., was next called. This application was represented by Miller and Hartwick. Then business last year totaled $71,514; licensed dealers $116,217. Employed Tom Waylonis at Tyler; Taft Lamon at Sykesville and Big Soldier and Adam Cronan at Erlon. They solicited orders and collected money after goods were delivered. Cronan had been arrested for violation of the liquor law. Had never read the rules of court. Largest single shipment was 50 cases to Punxsutawney Elks club. Seven or eight barrels was largest shipment to individual at Walston, in Jefferson county. Largest sale to Clearfield county individual was eight barrels to a Slavish wedding in DuBois; six barrels in first order and the wedding lingered two days and took two more barrels. Sold six barrels to individual in Jefferson county and four to one in Clearfield. Did not know nor identify all customers. Averaged three quarts of alcohol per day. Did not put labels on all they sold. Kept no sales record. Lost an order book when arrested for violation of the liquor law but had one book with him.

T. J. Gleason, represented by W. A. Hagerty, was the last wholesaler on the list. His business amounted to $31,290 since April 24th; $2,000 of this amount to licensed dealers. Drivers took occasional orders. No solicitations. Sold on credit to individuals. Largest shipment to individual was two barrels; largest number of cases to an individual were five; largest amount of whiskey to individual was three gallons. Made sales to Jefferson county. Didn't label all goods. Largest sale of whiskey was four quarts, bottles never labeled, although rules of court say they must have label on every bottle. Didn't think it was necessary, just slipped by with it. Thought he was keeping all rules but label rule. Disobeyed quantity sales rule. Obeyed opening and closing rule. When asked he had signed an affidavit to obey the rules said he didn't know what it was. Made sales to women. Heard Mrs. Griffith's testimony but couldn't say he had ever seen her; had invited women to take a drink at times in his place. Kept no record of sales or store. Did not bring record book because he kept none. Had prohibited list of three, never put any one on himself. Did not have all his customers identified. Half a dozen people he didn't sell to.

DuBois Brewing Co. was called. Frank Schwem taking the stand. Miller & Hartwick represented this application. Sold several barrels to individuals, and one or two cases at one sale, said he had notice of modification of rule in this regard. Receipts were $420,000. Increase over 1915 of $40,000. Increase over 1915 of $40,000. Employed two solicitors for licensed trade only. Business with individuals amounted to $15,000; hotels $40,000 to $50,000, balance to wholesalers.

All wholesalers having violated the quantity sales rule of 1915 the records of express and railroad companies as to shipments were not put in evidence.

Mr. Geist ordered case of beer from brewery. Was not asked his age. The beer was in evidence. Got the money for same from Rev. Borland. He also bought a quart of whiskey at each of the four wholesalers in DuBois. He is 20 years old.

In each case the money with which the purchase was made was given him by Rev. Borland.

Today's War Tidings

—REPLY WILL BE FIKE—

Amsterdam Jan. 19.—Our reply to Britain's arrogance, their distortions and their menace will be by fire.

This was a phrase in the editorial of the Cologne Volks Zeitung according to dispatches received here today. This expression was almost identical to all the editorials in the German newspapers in commenting on a note to America from British Foreign Minister Balfour.

INAUGURATION TO BE PICTURESQUE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—A patriotic and picturesque feature of the ceremonies attending the second inauguration of President Wilson and Vice President Marshall, March 4, will be supplied by the rapidly thinning ranks of the Grand Army of the Republic. At former inaugurations these venerable veterans have marched in the escorting division which accompanied the President and Vice President from the White House to the Capitol, where the oath of office is administered with ceremony preceding the general parade.

Mr. Faust has been taking treatment for the past nine weeks and his condition was very much improved when Mr. and Mrs. Woomer left Pittsburgh.

WILL AID LANSING

William Phillips, who has just been appointed assistant secretary of state to succeed John E. Osborne, has advanced more rapidly in the diplomatic service than any one else in the state department outside of Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Fletcher. He entered the service in 1903 as secretary to Ambassador Choate in London. During the European war he has had charge of European affairs as third assistant secretary, his duties taking in a multiplicity of details.

SOLOMON SCHMIDT
CALLED BY ANGEL OF
DEATH YESTERDAYMost Prominent Exponent of
Odd Fellowship in This Section of the State

Although the Jewish faith he was a Regular Attendee at the Lutheran Church of Philadelphia born in Germany Seventy Seven years ago

With very profound regret we announce the death of Solomon Schmidt. The deceased was born in Germany, on April 23, 1839, making his age 77 years, 8 months and 21 days. He came to America in 1862, first settling in Philadelphia. Later he located at Bellefonte, and on September 22, 1866, came to Philipsburg to engage as a clerk in the store of his brother, Samuel, who has been dead for many years. Later on he engaged in the butchering business with his brother Henry, and in recent years has been giving most of his attention to clerical work.

Few men in this section of the state were more prominent in Odd Fellowship than he deceased. He was a charter member of Magnolia Lodge, organized 50 years ago on July 5th, next. He also helped to institute Moshannon Enticampment, No. 173, and Rebekah Lodge, No. 193, and was a member of Canton Tyrone, No. 42. He filled creditably most of the offices in the local lodges, and was always regarded as a principal factor in the success of these organizations.

Mr. Schmidt had almost from its inception been a member of Royal Arcanum, No. 803, this city, and for many years and at the time of his death was collector for the order. He had also for years been the faithful Second Ward Assessor, a position he held at his demise. He was for years secretary of the Commercial Travelers' Association and filled other positions of trust.

Religiously he belonged to the Jewish faith, but for years was a regular attendant at the Lutheran church. The funeral will take place on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock from the Schmidt home, with interment in the Jewish cemetery. The Odd Fellows will have charge of the service.

Miner Settles Debate
With Aid of CrowbarLaw Then Intervenes and he is Taken
Back to Bald Hill to Answer

John Keoka, a miner employed at Bald Hills, got into an argument with his "buddy" in the mines over how deep a hole should be drilled before placing a "shot" and the other fellow not yielding quickly enough to John's line of reasoning, the latter used a convenient crowbar to enforce his argument with, and not only won the discussion but carved in a slot or two for the other fellow.

Keoka was arrested in Clearfield yesterday evening by Chief of Police McHenry and taken back to Bald Hill this afternoon for a hearing.

PERSONAL

Clearfield, Pa., January 18, 1917.

I am having this letter published in the Progress in the hopes that you may see it as I want you to understand why I left you. You will remember when I first saw D. F. and talked to you about him you did not seem to mind my going out to see him. You thought that it was a passing infatuation and would soon die out. There is where you made the first mistake and you made the most serious one when you forbid me going to see him after my infatuation had grown until it overshadowed all.

I will admit that you were right when you said I sneaked out to see him after you for bid it but how could I help it. From the first his personality held a great attraction for me. I do not see how you could blame me for you done the same thing yourself. Many a night you left me sitting at home when you went to see N. T. and if you could do that why, to my way of thinking I had as much privilege as you.

HORN MURDER CASE GETS ATTENTION

Ralph Chervall, who has been in jail charged with the murder of Abel Elmer, at DuBois, Pa., on October 21st last, was before the court on habeas corpus proceedings instituted by his attorney, A. H. Woodward, Esq. The commonwealth was represented by District Attorney Welch, A. M. Liveright and W. C. Miller, Esqs., who put up a strong fight to keep Chervall in jail. Coroner Pollum was called and testified to being called and finding Horn murdered in his shanty and also of the result of his post mortem to establish cause of death.

Dr. Pollum said he found the man shot through the left breast lying on the sofa in his kitchen with his hands crossed on his breast.

The star witness in this case, who is also being held in jail is a Miss Swartz who was Horn's housekeeper. The defense alleges that the real murderer is being shielded and an attempt made to make Chervall "the goat" in the affair.

The hearing was continued this afternoon but no decision rendered yet.

Juvenile Probation Officer Leavy had Samuel Leeper, of DuBois, before the court on complaint of his neighbors on the charge of neglecting his children. Leeper formerly resided at Big Run, where his wife died and left him with three little children. He was employed at the locomotive shops in DuBois, working at night. The children were aged 11, 6 and 4 years. The eldest, a boy, was the "mother" of the little flock when the father was at work. The children were on the streets at night cold and hungry often, hence the complaint. Leeper meant well but was unable to do any better by his little ones. Judge Bell sent the little ones to the Children's home in Clearfield and Leeper expressed himself as satisfied with the arrangement, although he said he hated the thoughts of being separated from the little ones.

Albert Foster, of Wallacetown, who sent Clayton Hoover to the hospital last fall following a scrap over $1.50, was directed to pay Hoover $78.80, a fine of $25 and the costs in the case, after a good lecture from the Court, who told him that if he complied with this order promptly and conducted himself properly for the next two years no record would be made against him in this case.

The strenuous grant of license to a tavern which ended at 11 o'clock last night was followed up this morning by a very busy session of criminal court. When court opened at 9 o'clock District Attorney Welch had a round dozen of hours of the criminal standing at the state head up to await the pleasure of Judge Bell. His

Question: When is a rule not a rule?
DuBois Wholesaler. When it applies to me.

The old saying that rules were made to be broken is a proverb over around DuBois.

We take it that the Court did not intend that his rulings should bear the qualities of spring steel.

It is our desire that every farmer reading this publication will take advantage of the splendid articles running on the Farm Loan Act and read them carefully word for word. Every farmer should be familiar with this legislation.

The Jewish Consumptive's Relief Society has published their annual report showing about 8000 treated at their hospital in Denver. A notable feature of the work is the fact that over half of the number treated were not affiliated with any Jewish or general organization.

In our opinion the dries wasted a lot of money getting evidence in DuBois. While they succeeded in getting all they wanted the strongest evidence produced was the dealers themselves with their acknowledgement of broken rules and in many cases their contempt in evading direct answers to direct questions of counsel.

It must be acknowledged that Clearfield Council lost two good men in Mr. Seiler and Mr. Wilson. It is fortunate however that they have had the foresight to select Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Cowdrick to take up the work and as both are practical workers they will do much to help put through to completion the many projects that the Clearfield Council will have to face in the next two years.

YES OR NO

How many times we hear the command given to answer either yes or no. The effrontery of a certain gentleman in court last night bordered on contempt. An attempt to be witty in answer to court interrogation is not only disgusting to the spectators who love the sacred precincts of the Hall of Justice but is a presumption on the friendship of the Court. Anyhow, some people's wit compares favorably to the instinct of the jackass; purely instinct and not the product of gray matter.

A DEBASED SENSE OF HUMOR

It is really disgusting to hear the loud guffaws of a majority of the habitués of a court room when matters of a personal or delicate nature are being brought out in testimony.

Yesterday a little woman from near DuBois testified

to having rode to DuBois several times on freight trains to get her husband and bring him home before he could get intoxicated and have to pay a fine which she knew would be as much of a punishment to her and the little family as to him and the relating of this touching story of the trials of a woman mated with one who thinks more of drink than the loves of his family brought chuckles to the throats of many a spectator in the court room. Later, when testifying as to how she came into possession of an empty whiskey bottle she related how it had been thrown at her by her husband, she catching it as it bounded from her shoulder, and not a few one hundred and sixty pound hunks of flesh and blood bearing the semblance of real men loudly guffawed in glee over this spectacle of a brute husband and outraged womanhood.

Clearfield, Pa.

Dear Sir,

In asking for the opinion of your readers concerning the most interesting news section in your daily I beg to state that our towns people are always ready to complain if the 5:37 mail arrives here without any of your papers.

I think the local news of our neighboring community first demands our attention for the correspondents all seem to send you news that is well worth reading.

For my own reading I like your paper for the call it puts out on the first sensational happenings of the day.

Any new war news, any new tragedies, auto accidents, large shell factories blown up, Harry Thaw attempts suicide. The look in the Cabinet, the good words of your editorials, the plain truth you speak of your own or any other town not up to the requirements.

I believe your readers in this man's town really use words not fit to print if you miss sending our PROGRESS. The want ads. also seem to be looked at very earnestly.

In telling you the above little story I am speaking for your readers here generally and ask you to try and give us good service so we can follow the late happenings without waiting till next week to read old news.

Thanking you very courteously for past favors, I remain

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

"WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE"
"When Dreams Come True," a new musical comedy by Philip Bartholomae will come to the Opera House tonight.

Robert C. Adams is at the head of a vast enlistment of the services of some of the best known names in musical comedy; Lorraine Lester, Connie Mac, Carmen Excell, Anna Little, P. C. Palmer, Roy E. Butler, Harlan Briggs, Jill Woodward, Arthur Williams, and other will be in the line up of principals—and a dainty demure chorus of dancing darlings will help to while away the evening for the "tired business man." The dancing numbers, of which there are nearly a score, will be a feature of the entertainment.

"When Dreams Come True" has for its theme the adventures of a young man who has been living a gay life in Paris forced to forsake the French capital, he starts home and falls in love with a young American girl on the voyage. Ashore, romance progresses, running now and then into melodrama and farce, but ultimately culminating in a happy climax.

The musical numbers are all composed by Silvio Hein, who has gained much fame as a composer of light opera.

The gowning of the feminine contingent with "When Dreams Come True" is a feature that will be especially pleasing to the ladies.

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns so they lift out.

Ouch ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezezone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn disengages and lifts right out without pain.

He says, freezezone is a sticky substance which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce, which will cost very little at any drug store, is said to be sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

The Whatchama ColumnHATS

The hat is an ingenious contraption invented by man to give the top of his head something to do.

But its usefulness doesn't stop there. A man can get a lot of fun out of his hat if he just knows how.

Some men have reduced their hats to a science. They make them pastime exercise and employment. They take them out windy days and chase them. Or mix them up at restaurants and fight about them with strangers. And when they have nothing else to do they use them to talk through.

The hat is what some men always pass and no woman ever does.

PRESIDENT NOW SEES CONGRESSMEN EN MASSE

Washington, Jan. 15.—The Rooseveltian practice of seeing a maximum number of Congressmen in a minimum space of time, has been adopted by President Wilson. Members of congress aren't very keen about the new system.

Instead of going in individually and spending from five minutes to half an hour with the President alone, Representative and senators now go into the President's office in a group of from three to twenty. Roosevelt adopted this practice when he was President.

The President passed from one to the other disposing of all of them in a few minutes as compared with the old system.

In addition the President sees his callers now in the afternoon making it even more difficult for congressmen to get in for they leave the floor of the capitol in order to confer with the executive.

But the President is behind in his work and he had to clear up the calendar quickly in order to get to the stack of government papers piled high on his desk.

There are female medical schools and some co-educational institutions in Tokio and other large cities of Japan, training several hundreds of women physicians.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramping or pain.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief, or you can eat what you like. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Texas is to entertain the largest number of the big leaguers this spring. Five teams—the Giants, Tigers, White Sox, Browns and Cardinals—have picked training spots in the Lone Star state.

Of the other major league outfits, the Braves, Phillies and Athletics will train in Florida, the Yankees, Senators and Pirates in Georgia, the Red Sox and Robins in Arkansas, the Indian and Reds in Louisiana, and the Cubs in California.

The trip of the Cubs to Pasadena will be the longest to be taken by any of the big league teams for the workout season. Elaborate preparations are being made for the long tour. Led by their new manager, Red Mitchell, the squad will leave Chicago in a special train the latter part of next month and go direct to Pasadena. The Cubs will be the third team to visit California in recent years, the White Sox and Red Sox having previously made the Pacific coast trip.

The New York Giants and the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Braves and New York Yankees are planning to introduce a novelty in their Spring training tours. The Giants and Tigers will make the homeward trip together and will play exhibition games en route. The same plan of doubling up in a series of matinee performances on the way North will be followed by the Braves and Yankees. Before tackling the Yanks, the Braves probably will play a series of three games in Havana.

The Washington Senators and Cincinnati Reds will form another combination to engage in a series of pre-season interleague battles. The Senators and Reds will clash in one game at Cairo, Ill., two in Louisville and three in Cincinnati.

The world's champion Red Sox will get into condition at Hot Springs, Ark., where they have done their spring training for several years. The appearance of the Sox at the spa resort will mark the debut of Jack Barry as a big league player. Jack will be in charge of the Sox and all he will have to do to pick another world-beating to continue the good work of predecessor, "Uncle Bill." On That's a considerable job for a new pilot, but the Boston owner fully believes that Jack will through right side up.

The Brooklyn Robins, opposite the Red Sox in the last world's series will also train at Hot Springs. There is some talk of the Sox and crossing bats at the Springs, early season series between the two teams is considered poor policy.

For the first time in many years the Pittsburgh Pirates are to play Hot Springs as a training ground. Manager Callahan will take the team to Columbus, Ga., in that a change in training camp bring a change in luck for the Pirates.

The Cleveland Indians will do their Spring training at Mechanicsville, the Phillies doubtless that they can repeat last season's start after working out in the Florida city. Should the Indians good this season it would seem generally accepted notion among league managers that large make poor training camps.

Considerable interest will center the spring performances of the Athletics at Jacksonville. Connie will have a small army of youngsters to try out and his followers a bunch that the veteran pitcher set for a "come back."

The late Emperor Francis Joseph was the last European monarch to keep up the tradition of granting private audiences to and poor alike.

SHOPS AND PLANTS FAVOR INDUSTRIAL BETTERMENT WORK

Actively Aid Welfare Plans of Every Description For Employees.

PHILANTHROPY NOT INTENT.

Comfort and Contentment of the Workers Considered Paramount.

Hundreds of millions of dollars have been expended during the past decade by American manufacturers for these terms of industrial betterment, in the half of employees, that are generally classed as philanthropic or beyond the mere requirements of laws and contracts.

Decent manufacturing and they are in the vast majority—are the decent people of other classes—are opposed to grinding child labor, and they strive to pay a living wage to all of their employees. They go much farther than that, as a study of American industry will show. They devote time, money and effort to provide every possible supplementary means for promoting the convenience, the comfort, the health, contentment and happiness of their workers and of the families of employees. Very few manufacturers consider such work as expenditures to be philanthropic, but rather a necessary feature of their business. While their motives may be as noble as those of the generous of heart, they find that it is good for the business and that it is good for the worker as well as for the community.

Industrial betterment means an attempt to provide the best kind of working and living conditions, and to give the employee a chance to improve his wage earning and the employer to improve those conditions and to improve those from time to time. It is not a debt to be paid to the worker, but a token of the mutual interest which makes the conditions, should permanent industry.

A thorough description of industrial betterment activities in the United States would require more space than is contained in the pages of this encyclopedia. To be sure, it is a long list of things, but it is a list of things that are written about the welfare of the worker in a single corporate plan. The United States Cash Register Company, for example, or the International Harvester Company, the United Fruit Company, the

TO BUILD SHIPS AT COST PRICE

Bethlehem Steel Will Make Offer to Uncle Sam.

BIDS ON 16 INCH NAVY SHELLS

No Chance For Profit in Them Under Present Terms, Grace Says—Possible Explanation of the Prices Made by an English Firm Which Bids Under All American Manufacturers.

Speaking recently before the Terrapin Club of Philadelphia, Bruce G. Grace, President of the Bethlehem Steel Company, said in part:

In a peculiar sense Bethlehem Steel serves the American people. For example, though we have been able to obtain in Europe almost any price, we have adhered, in our contracts to the United States Government, to the basis of prices established before the war began.

We agreed—if the Government would abandon its plans for a Federal plant—to make armor for our Navy at cost plus the Government itself might consider fair.

Our armor-plate plants are at the disposal of the nation at a fair operating cost, plus a small margin, thus saving the Government investment and depreciation.

One of the special needs of the new navy is sixteen-inch guns—guns sixty feet long and capable of hurling a 2600 pound shell with such power and accuracy as to hit a 50 foot square target fifteen miles away.

We have undertaken voluntarily to construct, at a cost of $12,000,000, a plant fitted to build sixteen-inch guns.

Under no conceivable circumstances can orders which we may receive for this plant pay even a fair return on the investment.

Considerable comment has been made upon the fact that a British manufacturer recently bid less than American manufacturers for sixteen and four-inch shells for the navy.

I am unable to state the basis upon which the British bid was made. It should be remembered, however, that this bid was for a specific shell, samples of which are being sent over for test—a test not yet made.

Two years ago we took an order for 2500 sixteen-inch armor-plate shells at a contract price of $900,000, to be delivered within a certain time or we had to pay a heavy penalty.

The only explanation for making these shells was that they should be of a certain size and must have armor-plate of a certain weight and composition. It is not possible to build the exact conditions of the work.

We had under construction shells for the past year had been accepted. But in placing this particular order the Department changed the size at which the shells should be built. The new plan, however, had been accepted. The new plan, however, had been accepted. The new plan, however, had been accepted.

The result is that up to now on that contract of $900,000 we have not had actual operating cost. The result is that up to now on that contract of $900,000 we have not had actual operating cost.

Such was the experience in the list of which we were called upon recently to bid for sixteen-inch armor-plate shells.

We find that the shells are approximately the same size and must have armor-plate of a certain weight and composition. It is not possible to build the exact conditions of the work.

We have not the slightest idea what profit there will be in the making of these shells. We do not know that there will be any. There is no possibility that it would be possible for us to deliver a shell at a profit.

For all that, the Navy is sure that any shell made under such conditions is "best of kind" is strong stuff.

We bid on the new sixteen-inch guns, which the Navy department expects to build a great many of. We would yield a great deal of loss in the process of building them. We would yield a great deal of loss in the process of building them.

The result is that up to now on that contract of $900,000 we have not had actual operating cost. The result is that up to now on that contract of $900,000 we have not had actual operating cost.

We have not the slightest idea what profit there will be in the making of these shells. We do not know that there will be any. There is no possibility that it would be possible for us to deliver a shell at a profit.

For all that, the Navy is sure that any shell made under such conditions is "best of kind" is strong stuff.

STEWART'S DRUG STORE

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea. and Sulphur. Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody has this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The job fell to his five years old son Thomas D. Jr. The boy can neither read nor write, yet he took the father to Minnesota and return without a mishap. When they sat down to dinner in a dining car or hotel the boy spelled out the bill of fare like, "S-T-E-A-K 7-5," and the father knew that meant 75 cents. When the father received change the boy called off to him the figures on bills and coin.

Leon Cheney Brothers, the Curtis Publishing Company, the Bethlehem Steel Company, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Eastman Kodak Company, any one of the leading railroad companies, the principal banks, Wanamaker's, or any of a host of other concerns which has developed activities of the sort. There is hardly a concern in the country doing business on a fairly extensive scale that has not initiated some form of industrial betterment for its employees. The honors do not go to the larger companies exclusively either, for many of the smaller business units have developed this side of their activities to a remarkable extent. Naturally it is easier for the larger corporations to put highly trained specialists in charge of the various branches of industrial betterment work.

The fundamentals of industrial betterment are observed in furnishing pleasant, sanitary, safe working conditions. Educational and entertainment features, facilities for study and recreation, special opportunities for the exercise of thrift and provisions tending to remove the dread of and to mitigate the suffering occasioned by sickness, disability or invalidity are matters which next receive attention. Well lighted, well ventilated and otherwise pleasant and safe working places, rest rooms, emergency kits and first aid kits, club rooms, assembly rooms, gymnasiums, lockers and bathing facilities, recreation grounds, bonus and profit sharing plans, special housing accommodations, facilities for the purchase of homes on easy payments, discounts in the purchase of goods, industrial and other educational classes, lectures for entertainment or instruction, moving pictures, excursions, field days, medical attendance, safety committees for accident and fire prevention, sickness, disability and invalidity funds, insurance or benefit associations and pensions are some of the customary features of industrial betterment work the variety of which has no limit.

Tens of thousands of lives are saved each year and hundreds of thousands of lesser accidents are prevented annually through the accident prevention campaign and feature of industrial betterment.

The Eastman Kodak Company in five years reduced the accidents in its plants by over 70 per cent per annum through a progressive safety campaign. The Pennsylvania Railroad in ten months decreased the serious injuries of its 33,242 shop employees over 63 per cent by the installation of safety devices and by the constant instruction of the workmen in exercising due caution. As a result of its safety campaign the United States Steel Corporation reduced serious and fatal accidents in its various plants by 46 per cent since 1906. Each year 2,500 of the men employed by the corporation escape how would have been injured under the previous conditions.

SHAKE-UP IN WESTERN GOLF

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 19.—According to opinions expressed by delegates already in town a strong dose of "pep" is likely to be injected into the Western Golf association when it meets in its annual session here tomorrow. For some time past there is said to have existed considerable dissatisfaction over the manner in which the association has controlled, or failed to control, the sport in the territory over which it exercises jurisdiction. The election of a clean slate of officers and the adoption of an aggressive policy are expected to be a part of the reorganization plan. In addition to transacting other business the meeting will be called upon to select the courses for the championship tournaments to be held this year.

THE VALUE OF MONEY

Little as one may think of it, the value of money is often determined by the use to which it is put by its owner. Some people, as you often hear, do not value money highly either by reason of the fact that they inherited it or it comes easy to them.

But the woman who must make her weekly or monthly allowance cover her household needs and possibly clothes realizes the value of money and how it applies to the purchasing ability of its owner. Such women as these are quick to realize the buying advantages provided during the present month at this store.

DAMAGING LINE OF EVIDENCE PRODUCED

A complete record of the court proceedings in the retail cases will be found on page four of this issue. That is that part of the proceedings that transpired between four P. M. last evening and the time that the wholesale applications were taken up. Following is a record of the proceedings in so far as the wholesale applications were concerned.

John J. Boyle was called and said his business amounted to $39,000 last year, about one-fourth of which was to licensed dealers. Did not think the 1915 rules applied in 1916. He was represented by Miller & Hartwick. Did not have his sales record. Sold some people without complete identification. Didn't label everything that he sent out. Obeyed the law and rules just as closely as possible. Drivers brought in few orders and credit was extended. Sold couple of cases of whiskey to Punxsutawney Elks club. Got no rules when he got his license this year and thought 1915 rules expired with his license. Shipped some goods to Sykesville and other Jefferson county points by trolley car when customer comes and gets goods. Might have shipped a few orders by express to Reynoldsville.

Ed Schwem, of E. D. Schwem & Co., represented by Miller & Hartwick, called. Receipts last year $59,880; about $10,000 to licensed dealers, a total increase of $18,000 over 1914. Understood rules of 1915 were in force in 1916. No limit in shipments to individuals. Had three drivers. Cave no percentage to agents and made no deliveries except by wagon and common carrier and had a splitter go to Tyler and Falls Creek. He took orders and after goods delivered collected the money.

Judge Bell said he made no restrictions regarding sales to residents of other counties; that the counties did not appreciate such rulings and would not cooperate.

W. A. Couse, representing C. A. Mead & Co., was next called. This application was represented by Miller and Hartwick. Then business last year totaled $71,514; licensed dealers $11,621.77. Employed Tom Waylonis at Tyler; Taft Lamon at Sykesville and Big Soldier and Adam Cronan at Erlton. They solicited orders and collected money after goods were delivered. Cronan had been arrested for violation of the liquor law. Had never read the rules of court. Largest single shipment was 50 cases to Punxsutawney Elks club. Seven or eight barrels was largest shipment to individual at Walston, in Jefferson county. Largest sale to Clearfield county individual was eight barrels to a Slavish wedding in DuBois; six barrels in first order and the wedding lingered two days and took two more barrels. Sold six barrels to individual in Jefferson county and four to one in Clearfield. Did not know nor identify all customers. Averaged three quarts of alcohol per day. Did not put labels on all they sold. Kept no sales record. Lost an order book when arrested for violation of the liquor law but had one book with him.

T. J. Gleason, represented by W. A. Hagerty, was the last wholesaler on the list. His business amounted to $31,290 since April 24th; $2,000 of this amount to licensed dealers. Drivers took occasional orders. No solicitations. Sold on credit to individuals. Largest shipment to individual was two barrels; largest number of cases to an individual were five; largest amount of whiskey to individual was three gallons. Made sales to Jefferson county. Didn't label all goods. Largest sale of whiskey was four quarts, bottles never labeled, although rules of court say they must have label on every bottle. Didn't think it was necessary, just slipped by with it. Thought he was keeping all rules but label rule. Disobeyed quantity sales rule. Obeyed opening and closing rule. When asked he had signed an affidavit to obey the rules said he didn't know what it was. Made sales to women. Heard Mrs. Griffith's testimony but couldn't say he had ever seen her; had invited women to take a drink at times in his place. Kept no record of sales at store. Did not bring record book because he kept none. Had prohibited list of three, never put any one on himself. Did not have all his customers identified. Half a dozen people he didn't sell to.

DuBois Brewing Co. was called. Frank Schwem taking the stand. Miller & Hartwick represented this application. Sold several barrels to individuals, and one or two cases at one sale, said he had notice of modification of rule in this regard. Receipts were $420,000. Increase over 1915 of $40,000. Increase over 1915 of $40,000. Employed two solicitors for licensed trade only. Business with individuals amounted to $15,000; hotels $40,000 to $50,000, balance to wholesalers.

All wholesalers having violated the quantity sales rule of 1915 the records of express and railroad companies as to shipments were not put in evidence.

Mr. Geist ordered case of beer from brewery. Was not asked his age. The beer was in evidence. Got the money for same from Rev. Borland. He also bought a quart of whiskey at each of the four wholesalers in DuBois. He is 20 years old.

In each case the money with which the purchase was made was given him by Rev. Borland.

Clyde Benedict also bought quarts from the four wholesalers, one quart being purchased yesterday. He is 19 years of age.

Bert Burns, of Reynoldsville, was called and questioned concerning his testimony at Brookville license court. He said he testified that he had hauled the beer sold by E. D. Schwem's wholesale. Objection was made and sustained.

Was asked whether he had acted as an agent for Schwem & Co., at Reynoldsville, said he did not, but hauled beer for persons ordering it.

John Samouse, aged 16, said he purchased a quart of gin at Gleason's wholesale last fall. Said J. R. Osborne had sent him for it. He did not use any of it. Mr. Gleason said he sold him alcohol for Mr. Osborne to use in his shop.

Leo Gleason, 15 years old son of the applicant was sworn and corroborated his father's story, he being present when the sale was made.

Judge Bell directed a letter to Mr. Osborne asking him to state contents of bottle brought to him from Gleason's by John Smouse.

This ended the testimony, with the exception of that in the case of the Hotel Wayne, DuBois. The proprietor of this hotel, James T. Dunn, was sick in bed and unable to appear and the testimony for and against in his case will be heard Saturday, January 27th.

Following the Dunn hearing Messrs Swoope and Arnold will make their legal arguments on the points raised against the different applicants during the hearings and then the entire matter will be in the hands of Judge Bell for disposition. It will likely be some time before decisions are handed down as the court has a mass of records and other data to investigate relative to many of the applications.

Flood Brothers who had a license at Grass Flat, Cooper township got tired of the business in one year and withdrew their application before it was heard.

The application of John H. Burns for license for the Decatur House near Osceola, was also withdrawn. Mr. Burns having died after filing his application.

SOLOMON SCHMIDT
CALLED BY ANGEL OF
DEATH YESTERDAYMost Prominent Exponent of
Odd Fellowship in This Section of the State

Although the Jewish faith he was a Regular Attendant at the Lutheran Church of Philadelphia born in Germany Seventy Seven years ago

With very profound regret we announce the death of Solomon Schmidt.

The deceased was born in Germany, on April 23, 1839, making his age 77 years, 8 months and 21 days. He came to America in 1862, first settling in Philadelphia. Later he located at Bellefonte, and on September 22, 1866, came to Philadelphia to engage as a clerk in the store of his brother, Samuel, who has been dead for many years. Later on he engaged in the butchering business with his brother Henry, and in recent years has been giving most of his attention to clerical work.

Few men in this section of the state were more prominent in Odd Fellowship than he deceased. He was a charter member of Magnolia Lodge, organized 50 years ago on July 5th, next. He also helped to institute Moshannon Enticampment, No. 173, and Rebekah Lodge, No. 193, and was a member of Canton Tyrone, No. 42. He filled creditably most of the offices in the local lodges, and was always regarded as a principal factor in the success of these organizations.

Mr. Schmidt had almost from its inception been a member of Royal Arcanum, No. 803, this city, and for many years and at the time of his death was collector for the order. He had also for years been the faithful Second Ward Assessor, a position he held at his demise. He was for years secretary of the Commercial Travelers' Association and filled other positions of trust.

Religiously he belonged to the Jewish faith, but for years was a regular attendant at the Lutheran church.

The funeral will take place on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock from the Schmidt home, with interment in the Jewish cemetery. The Odd Fellows will have charge of the service.

Miner Settles Debate
With Aid of CrowbarLaw Then Intervenes and he is Taken
Back to Bald Hill to Answer

John Keoka, a miner employed at Bald Hills, got into an argument with his "buddy" in the mines over how deep a hole should be drilled before placing a "shot" and the other fellow not yielding quickly enough to John's line of reasoning, the latter used a convenient crowbar to enforce his argument with, and not only won the discussion but carved in a slot or two for the other fellow.

Keoka was arrested in Clearfield yesterday evening by Chief of Police McHenry and taken back to Bald Hill this afternoon for a hearing.

PERSONAL

Clearfield, Pa., January 18, 1917.

I am having this letter published in the Progress in the hopes that you may see it as I want you to understand why I left you. You will remember when I first saw D. F. and talked to you about him you did not seem to mind my going out to see him. You thought that it was a passing infatuation and would soon die out. There is where you made the first mistake and you made the most serious one when you forbid me going to see him after my infatuation had grown until it overshadowed all. I will admit that you were right when you said I sneaked out to see him after you for bid it but how could I help it. From the first his personality held a great attraction for me. I do not see how you could blame me for you done the same thing yourself.

Many a night you left me sitting at home when you went to see N. T. and if you could do that why, to my way of thinking I had as much privilege as you.

Question: When is a rule not a rule?
DuBois Wholesaler. When it applies to me.

The old saying that rules were made to be broken is a proverb over around DuBois.

We take it that the Court did not intend that his rulings should bear the qualities of spring steel.

It is our desire that every farmer reading this publication will take advantage of the splendid articles running on the Farm Loan Act and read them carefully word for word. Every farmer should be familiar with this legislation.

The Jewish Consumptive's Relief Society has published their annual report showing about 3000 treated at their hospital in Denver. A notable feature of the work is the fact that over half of the number treated were not affiliated with any Jewish or general organization.

In our opinion the dries wasted a lot of money getting evidence in DuBois. While they succeeded in getting all they wanted the strongest evidence produced was the dealers themselves with their acknowledgement of broken rules and in many cases their contempt in evading direct answers to direct questions of counsel.

It must be acknowledged that Clearfield Council lost two good men in Mr. Seiler and Mr. Wilson. It is fortunate however that they have had the foresight to select Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Cowdrick to take up the work and as both are practical workers they will do much to help put through to completion the many projects that the Clearfield Council will have to face in the next two years.

YES OR NO

How many times we hear the command given to answer either yes or no. The effrontery of a certain gentleman in court last night bordered on contempt. An attempt to be witty in answer to court interrogation is not only disgusting to the spectators who love the sacred precincts of the Hall of Justice but is a presumption on the friendship of the Court. Anyhow, some people's wit compares favorably to the instinct of the jackass; purely instinct and not the product of gray matter.

A DEBASED SENSE OF HUMOR

It is really disgusting to hear the loud guffaws of a majority of the habitués of a court room when matters of a personal or delicate nature are being brought out in testimony.

Yesterday a little woman from near DuBois testified

to having rode to DuBois several times on freight trains to get her husband and bring him home before he could get intoxicated and have to pay a fine which she knew would be as much of a punishment to her and the little family as to him and the relating of this touching story of the trials of a woman mated with one who thinks more of drink than the loves of his family brought chuckles to the throats of many a spectator in the court room. Later, when testifying as to how she came into possession of an empty whiskey bottle she related how it had been thrown at her by her husband, she catching it as it bounded from her shoulder, and not a few one hundred and sixty pound hunks of flesh and blood bearing the semblance of real men loudly guffawed in glee over this spectacle of a brute husband and outraged womanhood.

Letters to the Editor

Editor Progress
Clearfield, Pa.Dear Sir:
In asking for the opinion of your readers concerning the most interesting news section in your daily I beg to state that our towns people are always ready to complain if the 5:37 mail arrives here without any of your papers.

I think the local news of our neighboring community first demands our attention for the correspondents all seem to send you news that is well worth reading.

For my own reading I like your paper for the call it puts out on the first sensational happenings of the day.

Any new war news, any new tragedies, auto accidents, large shell factories blown up, Harry Thaw attempts suicide. The look in the Cabinet, the good words of your editorials, the plain truth you speak of your own or any other town not up to the requirements.

I believe your readers in this man's town really use words not fit to print if you miss sending our PROGRESS. The want ads. also seem to be looked at very earnestly.

In telling you the above little story I am speaking for your readers here generally and ask you to try and give us good service so we can follow the late happenings without waiting till next week to read old news.

Thanking you very courteously for past favors, I remain

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

"WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE"

"When Dreams Come True," a new musical comedy by Philip Bartholomae will come to the Opera House tonight.

Robert C. Adams is at the head of a cast enlisting the services of some of the best known names in musical comedy; Lorraine Lester, Connie Mac, Carmen Excell, Anna Little, P. C. Palmer, Roy E. Butler, Harlan Briggs, Jill Woodward, Arthur Williams, and other will be in the line up of principals—and a dainty demure chorus of dancing darlings will help to while away the evening for the "tired business man." The dancing numbers, of which there are nearly a score, will be a feature of the entertainment.

"When Dreams Come True" has for its theme the adventures of a young man who has been living a gay life in Paris forced to forsake the French capital, he starts home and falls in love with a young American girl on the voyage. Ashore, romance progresses, running now and then into melodrama and farce, but ultimately culminating in a happy climax.

The musical numbers are all composed by Silvio Hein, who has gained much fame as a composer of light opera.

The gowning of the feminine contingent with "When Dreams Come True" is a feature that will be especially pleasing to the ladies.

NEW SHOES WON'T HURT AFTER THIS

Cincinnati man tells how to shrivel up corns so they lift out.

Ouch ! ! ! ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called freezeone when applied to a tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn disengages up and lifts right out without pain.

He says freezeone is a sticky substance which dries immediately and never inflames or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce, which will cost very little at any drug store, is said to be sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

HATS

The hat is an ingenious contraption invented by man to give the top of his head something to do.

But its usefulness doesn't stop there. A man can get a lot of fun out of his hat if he just knows how.

Some men have reduced their hats to a science. They make them pastime exercise and employment. They take them out windy days and chase them. Or mix them up at restaurants and fight about them with strangers. And when they have nothing else to do they use them to talk through.

The hat is what some men always pass and no woman ever does.

PRESIDENT NOW SEES CONGRESSMEN EN MASSE

Washington, Jan. 15.—The Rooseveltian practice of seeing a maximum number of Congressmen in a minimum space of time, has been adopted by President Wilson. Members of congress aren't very keen about the new system.

Instead of going in individually and spending from five minutes to half an hour with the President alone, Representatives and senators now go into the President's office in a group of from three to twenty. Roosevelt adopted this practice when he was President.

The President passed from one to the other disposing of all of them in a jig time as compared with the old system.

In addition the President sees his callers now in the afternoon making it even more difficult for congressmen to get in for they leave the floor of the capitol in order to confer with the executive.

But the President is behind in his work and he had to clear up the backlog quickly in order to get to the stack of government papers piled high on his desk.

There are female medical schools and some co-educational institutions in Tokio and other large cities of Japan, training several hundreds of women physicians.

STOMACH UPSET?

Get at the Real Cause—Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

If you have a bad taste in your mouth, tongue coated, appetite poor, lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, troubled with undigested foods, you should take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color. They do the work without gripping, cramping or pain.

Cleveland—New Orleans.
Washington—Augusta, Ga.
St. Louis—Palestine, Texas.
Philadelphia—Jacksonville, Fla.

Spring training plans have now been perfected by all the major league clubs, and within another six weeks the fans will be reading daily accounts of the great diamond doings of their favorites.

Texas is to entertain the largest number of the big leaguers this spring. Five teams—the Giants, Tigers, White Sox, Browns and Cardinals—have picked training spots in the Lone Star state.

Of the other major league outfits, the Braves, Phillies and Athletics will train in Florida, the Yankees, Senators and Pirates in Georgia, the Red Sox and Robins in Arkansas, the Indian and Reds in Louisiana, and the Cubs in California.

The trip of the Cubs to Pasadena will be the longest to be taken by any of the big league teams for the workout season. Elaborate preparations are being made for the long tour. Led by their new manager, Red Mitchell, the squad will leave Chicago in a special train the latter part of next month and go direct to Pasadena. The Cubs will be the third team to visit California in recent years, the White Sox and Red Sox having previously made the Pacific coast trip.

The New York Giants and the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Braves and New York Yankees are planning to introduce a novelty in their Spring training tours. The Giants and Tigers will make the homeward trip together and will play exhibition games en route. The same plan of doubling up in a series of matinee performances on the way North will be followed by the Braves and Yankees. Before tackling the Yanks, the Braves probably will play a series of three games in Havana.

The Washington Senators and Cincinnati Reds will form another combination to engage in a series of pre-season interleague battles. The Senators and Reds will clash in one game at Cairo, Ill., two in Louisville and three in Cincinnati.

The world's champion Red Sox will get into condition at Hot Springs, Ark., where they have done their spring training for several years. The appearance of the Sox at the spa resort will mark the debut of Jack Barry as a big league player. Jack will be in charge of the Sox and all he will have to do to pick another world-beating to continue the good work of predecessor, "Uncle Bill." Go That's considerable job for a new pilot, but the Boston owner fane alike believe that Jack will through right side up.

SHOPS AND PLANTS FAVOR INDUSTRIAL BETTERMENT WORK

Actively Aid Welfare Plans of Every Description For Employees.

PHILANTHROPY NOT INTENT.

Comfort and Contentment of the Workers Considered Paramount.

Hundreds of millions of dollars have been expended during the past decade by American manufacturers for these forms of industrial betterment, in the half of employees, that are generally classed as philanthropic or beyond the mere requirements of laws and contracts.

Decent manufacturing plants and they are in the vast majority—are the decent people of other classes—are opposed to grinding child labor, and they strive to pay a living wage to all of their employees. They go much farther than that, as a study of American industry will show. They devote time, money and effort to provide every possible supplementary means for promoting the convenience, the comfort, the health, contentment and happiness of their workers and of the families of employees. Very few manufacturers consider such work as expenditures to be philanthropic, but rather a necessary feature of their business. While their motives may be as noble as those of the generous benefactor, they find that it is good for the business and that it is good for the worker as well as for the community.

Industrial betterment means an attempt to provide the best kind of working and living conditions, and to give the employee a sense of well-being, the wage earner and the employer are bringing these conditions about and improving them from time to time. It is not a debt to be paid to the worker, but a token of the mutual relationship which, under the conditions, should permeate industry.

A thorough description of industrial betterment activities in the United States would require more space than is contained in the pages of this encyclopedia. To be sure, it is a barometer, indeed, of the progress of the nation, but it is also a written record of the progress of a single corporation, such as the Cash Register Company, or of the United States Steel Corporation, or of the United States Steel Corporation.

TO BUILD SHIPS AT COST PRICE

Bethlehem Steel Will Make Offer to Uncle Sam.

BIDS ON 16 INCH NAVY SHELLS

No Chance For Profit in Them Under Present Terms, Grace Says—Possible Explanation of the Prices Made by an English Firm Which Bids Under All American Manufacturers.

Speaking recently before the Terrapin Club of Philadelphia, Bruce G. Grace, President of the Bethlehem Steel Company, said in part:

In a peculiar sense Bethlehem Steel serves the American people. For example, though we have been able to obtain in Europe almost any price, we have adhered, in our contracts to the United States Government, to the basis of prices established before the war began.

We agreed—if the Government would abandon its plans for a Federal plant—to make armor for our Navy at cost price the Government itself might consider fair.

Our armor-plate plants are at the disposal of the nation at a fair operating cost, plus a small margin, thus saving the Government investment and depreciation.

One of the special needs of the new navy is sixteen-inch guns—guns sixty feet long and capable of hurling a 2600 pound shell with such power and accuracy as to hit a 50 foot square target fifteen miles away.

We have undertaken voluntarily to construct, at a cost of $12,000,000, a plant fitted to build sixteen-inch guns.

Under no conceivable circumstances can orders which we may receive for this plant pay even a fair return on the investment.

Considerable comment has been made upon the fact that a British manufacturer recently bid less than American manufacturers for sixteen and four-inch shells for the navy.

I am unable to state the basis upon which the British bid was made. It should be remembered, however, that this bid was for a specific shell, samples of which are being sent over for test—a test not yet made.

Two years ago we took an order for 2500 sixteen-inch armor-plate shells at a contract price of $900,000, to be delivered within a certain time or we had to pay a heavy penalty.

The only explanation for making these shells was that they should be of a certain size and must have armor-plate of a certain weight and composition. It is hard to teach the exact conditions of the work.

We had under construction shells for the past year had been accepted. But in placing this particular order the Department changed the size at which the shells should be made. The result was that the new armor-plate had to be made in a different size. The result was that the new armor-plate had to be made in a different size. The result was that the new armor-plate had to be made in a different size.

The result is that up to now on that contract of $900,000 we have not had actual operating costs $247,000, but have been paid for the contract at $900,000, a profit of $653,000, with no receipt whatever.

Such was the experience in the list of which was were called upon recently to bid for sixteen-inch armor-plate. We bid at the rate of $1.10 per pound, but the Government accepted the bid at $1.00 per pound, a profit of $100,000.

We have not the slightest idea what profit there will be in the making of these shells. We do not know that there will be any. There is no possibility that it would be possible for us to deliver a shell at a profit.

For all that, the Navy is sure that any shell made under such conditions is "best of kind" is strong stuff.

We bid on the new sixteen-inch guns, which the Navy contracted to make. We bid at the rate of $1.10 per pound, but the Government accepted the bid at $1.00 per pound, a profit of $100,000.

Joe Bensinger of the Commercial hotel, was next on the list. Some witnesses and same testi- mony. Geist testified to having seen treating rule violated here last night. Noll also bought a bottle. In regard to Geist and Horn there might be some excuse for a bar tender making a mistake as to their age because they both have the appearance of fully matured young men, but there is absolutely no extenuating circum- stance in young Noll's case, who really appears to be even younger than the 18 years he claims. Horn said he bought five or six quarts in bottles and many drinks; so many one that he could neither count nor carry them. Had also been refused there. Been drinking steadily since he was 16 and got drunk every day. He named Fred Weston or the extra man, as the man who had refused him on account of his age and then gave it to him at other periods. Also named James Whitehill as doing the same thing. Also bought from Kirchert, the other man.

Fred Freeman of Grampian testified that he drove a car load of boys from Grampian to DuBois last fall, and testified that Harry Steller, one of the boys, was about 17, and he saw him in Commercial bar and asked for a drink and the bar tender said don't get too many of those I don't believe you are of age. Steller said he was of age or he wouldn't be there and he saw him getting the whiskey.

Harry Steller was called. He said he was 16 years of age. Two other boys, Johnson and Rafferty, aged 18 years, each got several drinks there, and corroborated Freeman's testi- mony, except that nothing was said as to his age. Also bought a quart of whiskey before leaving. Johnson bought a pint. Bill Smith, aged 18, also got a pint, no questions being asked in either case. He drank half of his whiskey on the road home. Had never drunk before this time. Bought his liquor from two different bar tenders.

Harry Steller, the boy's father was called and told of the boy's condition. He was very drunk. Three days later had him make affidavit to the occur- rence. Said his son would be 17 next day.

Grover Kirk, of Luthersburg, aged 20, also testified to buying beer at the Commercial. Bought beer from Whitehill, December 24th, also bought a pint several days later from Kirchert.

John F. Read of Falls Creek, having recovered from his indisposition of the morning was recalled. His bar receipts were $110,108.50 and house $2,517.50. The bar increased $2,000 in 1916, due to Jefferson county going 7.

Wm. Britkiewics was placed on the stand and testified to Raymond Stahl, aged 20, having purchased liquor. Said he asked for a bottle and was re- fused.

Raymond Stahl, of Sykesville, who was brought into court on an attach- ment, testified to buying beer and at Read's hotel. Said Rev. Stahl sent him down and furnished with the money to buy the liquor, in answer to a question of Judge Geist. Had not drunk any for a year ous.

as recalled and said his new of the arrangement. so purchased liquor at the is hotels about one year ago.

erome McCormick, of East Liver- pool, Ohio, who lives in Falls Creek, was called and was asked to identify a bottle taken from him when ar- rested on Tuesday last. He said he put all his marks on the inside of his bottles. Tried to get a bottle there but couldn't get it.

Joe Bats was called and questioned concerning his arrest for assault and battery due to a fight which occurred near this hotel a couple of weeks ago. Never bought a bottle or never treat- ed. Tried both.

Attorney Arnold announced that this case was closed and that he had just received word that Judge Corbett had refused all licenses in Jefferson county. The audience applauded and Judge Bell rapping for order said:

"I want no further demonstration in this court room and will place under arrest any man engaging in it; this is no beer garden. This demon- stration is in keeping with some of the anonymous letters I have receiv- ed threatening what would happen to me unless I decided that Falls Creek license matter in keeping with Judge Corbett's order; letters sent by people without courage enough to sign their names to them."

Thomas Gaffney, of DuBois, was next called.

Messrs. Strawcutter, Hill, Johnson, Cochran and Butkiewicz were called and testified to having purchased bot- tles of liquor. Geist, Stahl and Noll, minors, also gave testimony similar to that given against the other Du- Bois hotels. Horn also repeated his testimony.

John Rokoskis, of the Central Ho- tel, was called.

The usual testimony was given in this case also. Horn said he was ac- companied by two other minors on one occasion two months ago. They were Roy Ross and a Hockenberry boy.

Evening Session

When court opened after the even- ing recess Brady township was taken up and Ed Lynn of Helvetia, the only licensee in that township, was called to the stand. His bar averaged $22 to $28 per day. He was represented by Patterson & Patterson.

In answer to Attorney Arnold's questions he stated that he accommo- dated 863 people during the year; one- third of these were lodgers. No in- crease in bar receipts this year. This hotel is near the Jefferson county line, but Jefferson county going dry made no difference in his receipts.

Gaft Lamon, of Sykesville, testified that he had bought a bottle of whis- key there also bought some in DuBois.

Peter Lamon of Helvetia said he saw treating while landlord was tend- ing bar. Lamon was recently prose- cuted for violation of the liquor law and was made to pay a fine several months ago.

At this point Judge Bell read a let- ter from Squire Lias of Helvetia, fa- voring the applicant and explaining some of the charges against him.

Geist, who was used to get evidence in DuBois, was also a customer at Helvetia and purchased a pint. Was given money to pay fare and buy the whiskey by Rev. Borland, of DuBois. Strawcutter, of Falls Creek, was with Geist and also got a bottle. Stahl, of Sykesville, also said he bought a bottle of beer about Labor day.

Fred Imhoff, of Tyler, was next on the list. He was represented by Pat- tern & Patterson. Bar room, $8-525.35; hotel, $1,881.70. Kept a mental prohibition list of 14. Had two bar tenders.

Geist, also purchased a bottle at Imhoff's.

Clyde Benedict, of DuBois, aged 19, was with Geist and also purchased a bottle of whiskey January 13th 1917. Both treated. Said he volunteered in the cause.

Mr. Imhoff was placed upon the stand and said he did allow treating the past six months. Had a license for thirteen years and was held up three months in 1910.

Judge Bell then asked Mr. Imhoff if he recalled the recent homicide at Tyler and if his bottle record showed sales to the man who was killed and the man who did the killing. Said he did not know as he was away that day.

The DuBois wholesalers were next on the list and everybody settled back for something rich, rare and racy, following the gossip current regard- ing what the "Dry Boys" were sup- posed to have.

OUR BUSINESS MEN ASK FOR PUBLIC CO-OPERATION

Between Capital and Labor.

SAY INTERESTS ARE MUTUAL

Our Future Prosperity Depends on a Better Understanding and More Practical Application of Get-Together
Spirit in Industry—Must Eliminate Trouble-Breeders and Agitators.

A better public understanding and appreciation of the needs and problems of our American industries is conceded on every side to be one of the impor- tant national requirements for the de- velopment of our future industrial prosperity. Few people seem to un- derstand that the majority of our busi- ness men are fair minded, reasonable, beings, legitimately engaged in the de- velopment of our economic resources.

In the opinion of our business lead- ers this misunderstanding leads to the public, through the legislators, into thoughtless and unnecessary acts of reprisal against all branches of indus- try, which are often heinous to the best interests of their own community. To cure this lamentable condition it is first essential that a closer degree of co-operative action for the common good be established between em- ployees and employers. The first step in this direction is to eliminate the selfish, destructive agitator. This hap- py event would greatly facilitate a general get together spirit among em- ployers and workers.

The Work That Men Do.

The nation is confronted with more work than ever before—ships to build, factories to enlarge, railways to com- plete, new foreign business to be at- tracted and help to be extended to the unfortunate on the other side. There are about 30,000,000 men at work; if they work ten hours a day that is 300,000,000 hours a day or 96,000,000,000 hours a year. If they work eight hours it is 74,880,000,000, or a difference of 18,720,000,000 hours a year. At eight hours a day this means that about 7,400,000 more men must be employed to do the work that could be done by the 30,000,000, and where are they to come from?

During the past year there has been a unified and standardized banking cur- rency system tried and not found wanting. But there are yet other steps to be taken before the ideal of eco- nomic unity is worked out.

There are 602,000 stockholders of railroads in the United States. A large proportion of them depend on the earnings of the carriers for a meager in- come. Many of these stockholders have less than $1,000 a year in income, and they are unable to earn more, be- ing elderly persons or women. Thou- sands of them are forced to leave the railroads who did not upon their stock dividends to pay their rent and their grocery bills.

Labor and Capital Are Partners.

The manufactured output of the United States amounts to $2,000,000,000 in value per annum. It is three times the amount of the yearly output of the ranches, farms, orchards and gardens. It is a dozen times the output of the mines. It is five times the output of the shipbuilding industry. Labor received, as its share of the fruits of industry, wages amounting almost to seven billion dol- lars in the single year of 1914. Does this prove that the interests of employes are joint with those who employ them and that a real partner- ship exists?

Day there are over 100,000,000 peo- ple in the land who must be fed, clothed, sheltered, kept warm and of whom travel for health, pleas- ure, business. The railway systems are many places overtaxed in doing this.

Will be the conditions when there are 150,000,000 people to be served?

This is an addition of at least 50 per cent on the number of tons of freight over one mile and the number of passengers moved one mile.

There is a total mileage of 41,988 in the line of receivers in 1915, the total population of which was $2-294,000,000. That year alone 20,143 miles of road into the hands of receivers, and roads had a total cap- italization of $70,808,328. This com- pares with 2 miles in 1914 with a total capitalization of $19,571,116. In receivers' hands. This is not a healthy condition; it is a malady that affects directly and indirectly every one in the country.

Railways do belong to a few rich men or bankers; there are at least 150,000 owners, the recipients of American money. There are 1,400,000 men approximately employed in the railway and the insurance companies have $15,000,000 invested in railway securities, representing 30,000,000 policy holders, savings banks have $800,000,000 invested in which banks there are 100,000 depositors.

From 1900 to 1915 the States enact- ed 9,001 and congress enacted 2,013 new laws which fixed the consid- eration of more than half million legislative propositions, or an annual production of over 100 new laws to be assimilated by a business world.

OVERTAXING INDUSTRY.

Taxes are not the only burden of the rich. They must pay duty along the route and are generally paid in some proportion to all. What ex- cessive burdens of taxation upon the competitive disadvantages of a com- munity for any branch or class, busi- ness that community will not pay suffer a decrease in the industry, development and prosperity of all in its boundaries.

In many sections of the country ports show that industry is over- taxed to the point of bankruptcy. The burden of taxes on one form or another. This condition is one in part due to the fact that a political machine has passed a law adjusting the taxes on industry.

Two manufacturers in southern Massachusetts and the other located in Connecticut are the only companies in the United States that have not paid taxes on their property. They have been exempted from paying taxes on their property for many years.

Miss Hallie Sloppy, who has been visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sloppy of this place, has returned to her work in Wilkins- burg, Pa.

A number of cases of gripe may be found in our midst. Our efficient and accommodating physician Dr. Elmer Erhardt, says he has them well under control at this time.

Any one desiring good fresh eggs would do well to correspond with Mr. Perry Norris. He gets from one to two eggs each day. As soon as he gets orders the hens will be put to work more strenuously.

Our noted ball team is trying now to establish a bill league for the com- ing summer. Boardman seems will- ing to help. Now if O'Shanter, Lum- ber City, Grampian, and other neigh- boring towns would join in a real in- teresting league might be formed.

Few towns of this size can boast of an equal number of veterans of the civil war. We have in our midst, Enos Bloom, John C. Bloom, H. J. Sloppy, William Schoening, and Isaac Wolfe. These honored men are standing the winter exceptionally well and are the pride of our little town.

Guy Powell made a flying trip to Clearfield last week.

The following was found by Harri- son Norris in front of the residence of Harry Cathcart, in Olanta, last week. The lines seem to have some merit. We wait for some one from Olanta to claim them.

Fire escapes are the thing of the day. They belong to the modern notion of Life and the joy of living belongs To the man who is protected by emo- tions galore. Whose burden of life and rapturous song, Disappears quite by the fire escape door.

Anita Stewart Says

It was just after finishing all my work in "The Girl Philippi" when my chauffeur drew to a standstill before Ethel's white cottage. She was standing in the doorway waiting for me. After I had removed my big maroon motor cloak and straightened out my locks which had become mussed in spite of my visit, we caught the dining room. There Ethel's husband was already set while Baby Dear sat cooing in the high-chair.

Baby is growing old enough to take notice of things about. When the delicious salad was brought on the table with the tomatoes gleaming a beautiful shade of red, Baby decided that they must be very tempting. The brilliant red appealed to her at any rate, and at once a cry issued de- manding that they be placed on the chair tray.

As soon as the little darling saw that she was crying in vain the sobs became louder than ever, and soon the room was quite a din. I looked at Ethel inquiringly, for I was anx- ious to know just how she was going to manage the tot.

Ethel ignored the cries at first, and continued her conversation as though her little daughter were perfectly quiet. But as the noise became loud- er and louder she started to talk to the little one. I don't imagine the child knew one word she said, but nevertheless Ethel's manner showed that she would tolerate no nonsense. So gradually the sobs grew less and less and once more peace reigned in the cosy room.

Many mothers would consider this baby entirely too young to train. But Ethel realizes, and wisely I think, that although her words mean nothing her manner will have an effect.

When we had cleared the luncheon things away we went into the living- room and spent a delightful after- noon, chatting and laughing while Baby played in her play-cage until nap time.

Ethel shows no small amount of common sense in rearing her child, and I am sure most mothers might wisely learn a lesson from her. So many times we are likely to let chil- dren run wild for the first few years and then suddenly place a harsh ban on their tantrums. Is not Ethel's way much better?

New Form of Securities Created By The Farm Loan Act

Tomorrow's Article Will Tell How the Act Will Aid Homeless to Acquire Homes

By Frank R. Wilson
(Of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau)
(Written for the United Press)

Washington, Jan. 18.—As explained before in these articles, the operations of the Farm Loan act are divided into two main classes—a money assembling agency and a money lending agency.

The government puts the first nest-egg into the farm loan plan by buying the original capital stock of the twelve Federal Land Banks if necessary. When this has been loaned and farm mortgages taken in return for the money loaned the Federal Land Banks may issue bonds against these mortgages.

These bonds will be among the most attractive securities ever offered to American investors. As explained before, farmers are permitted to borrow only up to 50 per cent. of the value of their land. This means that every dollar's worth of bonds issued represents $2.00 worth of land as security.

The fact that each Federal Land Bank guarantees the bonds of all the other banks also puts behind these bonds as security the nine million dollars original capital stock of the banks and their required surplus earnings, plus the required annual deduction of the mortgage loan.

Besides this, the security constantly increases proportionately by reason of the constantly increasing capital contributed by the Farm Loan Association.

So the investment end of the Farm Loan Act is fully as important as the money-lending end, because it creates for the benefit of small and large investors a security backed by pooled first mortgage on farm lands, the proceeds being used to increase the productive power, and enhance the value of these mortgage lands.

Since the rate of interest to the farmer depends upon the rate of interest at which these bonds will sell, Congress went the limit to make these bonds attractive so they would sell at a low interest rate. The bonds are exempt from all form of taxation. The government will not even collect any income tax upon them. No state or municipality may tax them for any purpose. In order to make these bonds appeal to investors of all classes they are issued in denominations of from $25 to $1,000.

In order to protect them against counterfeiting they are issued by the United States Government bureau of engraving and printing and are protected from counterfeiters by the whole force of the United States secret service.

Heretofore it has been practically impossible for the small investor to buy real estate securities. A man or woman who wanted to buy $100 worth of farm securities was not able to find a farm mortgage of just that size.

In addition, the investor would not buy such a mortgage without inspecting the security. The cost and the bother were barriers which made it almost impossible for the small investor to get first mortgage securities.

Hereafter it will be possible for any investor who wants to buy farm securities from $25 up merely to apply for a Federal Farm Loan Bond of the denominations desired.

The investor will know that this bond represents $2.00 worth of land appraised under government supervision and that the bond was issued under government regulation.

The rate of interest at which these bonds will be issued has not yet been determined by the Federal Farm

Loan Board. It is safe to predict that in the beginning it will not be less than four and not more than five per cent.

So the benefits of the Farm Loan Act are not limited to farmers who need the use of cheaper capital but they include also those persons who have money to invest and are seeking a long time, readily marketable security of undoubted value.

GET TOGETHER FOR PERMANENT PROSPERITY.

Every man and woman engaged in American factories, mills and mines, whether they know English or speak it, are naturalized or intend to become citizens, have a direct interest in maintaining industrial prosperity. When times are good, all workers should not only be thrifty in habit and lay up a little something for possible rainy days, but they should do all they can to keep the good times with us.

Simply because your language is different from that of the foreman, overseer, superintendent, manager or owner of the plant in which you earn a living, is no excuse for misunderstanding your own common interest in prosperity by hating your partner in your own industry or listening to and following the gospel of dissension and violence which selfish agitators so often preach.

Do not blindly follow the man who tells you how hard your lot is. Often he is doing so untruthfully and for the purpose of getting you to contribute membership money for his own support in idleness. Agitators get rich by preying on the men in American industry, whom they urge into unlawful or harmful acts by misrepresenting conditions or holding out foolish and false promises of better things if they follow their orders. You know conditions yourself, and you know or ought to know that the man or men whom the agitator who pictures your employer as an inhuman driving machine is actually a partner with you, interested in having the plant or industry successful.

The more successful your plant or industry becomes, the more room for you to grow with it there will be. It should be your feeling, then, that you will not do us little as you may find it convenient to do, but to do just as much as you possibly can do, and then reasonably expect to share in the rewards that always come to the efficient worker.

Do not be a clock-watcher in the factory. Those who wait for hours to strike or whistles to blow and "soldier" at the bench, machine or in the office, never get ahead in the ranks of industry. They never get any more pay because they are not worth any more, and often are worth less than they get. Remember, the old adage that a man who never does any more or as much as he gets paid for, never gets paid for any more than he does.—Industrial Conservation, N. Y.

BLACK WEDDING FOR THIS COUPLE
New York, Jan. 19.—Read this, girls, if you want a tip on something new for your wedding. When Miss Eleanor Klinger, fashion model, and Mr. Ora Cne, designer of hats and gowns, stand before the marriage altar in St. Vincent de Paul's church tomorrow they will break all wedding traditions in that they will wear black from head to foot. The wedding breakfast, served by a black servant, will consist of blackberry, cactails, black bass, black bread, black coffee, and other black delicacies. Mr. Cne and his bride-to-be say they want to show the world something new in the way of weddings; also, black weddings will prove cheaper for society than the usual kind, as black clothes are always serviceable.

Every Farmer Can Now Have His Own Electric Light Plant

Delco Lighting System Makes it Possible For Farms, Hunting Camps and Every Place

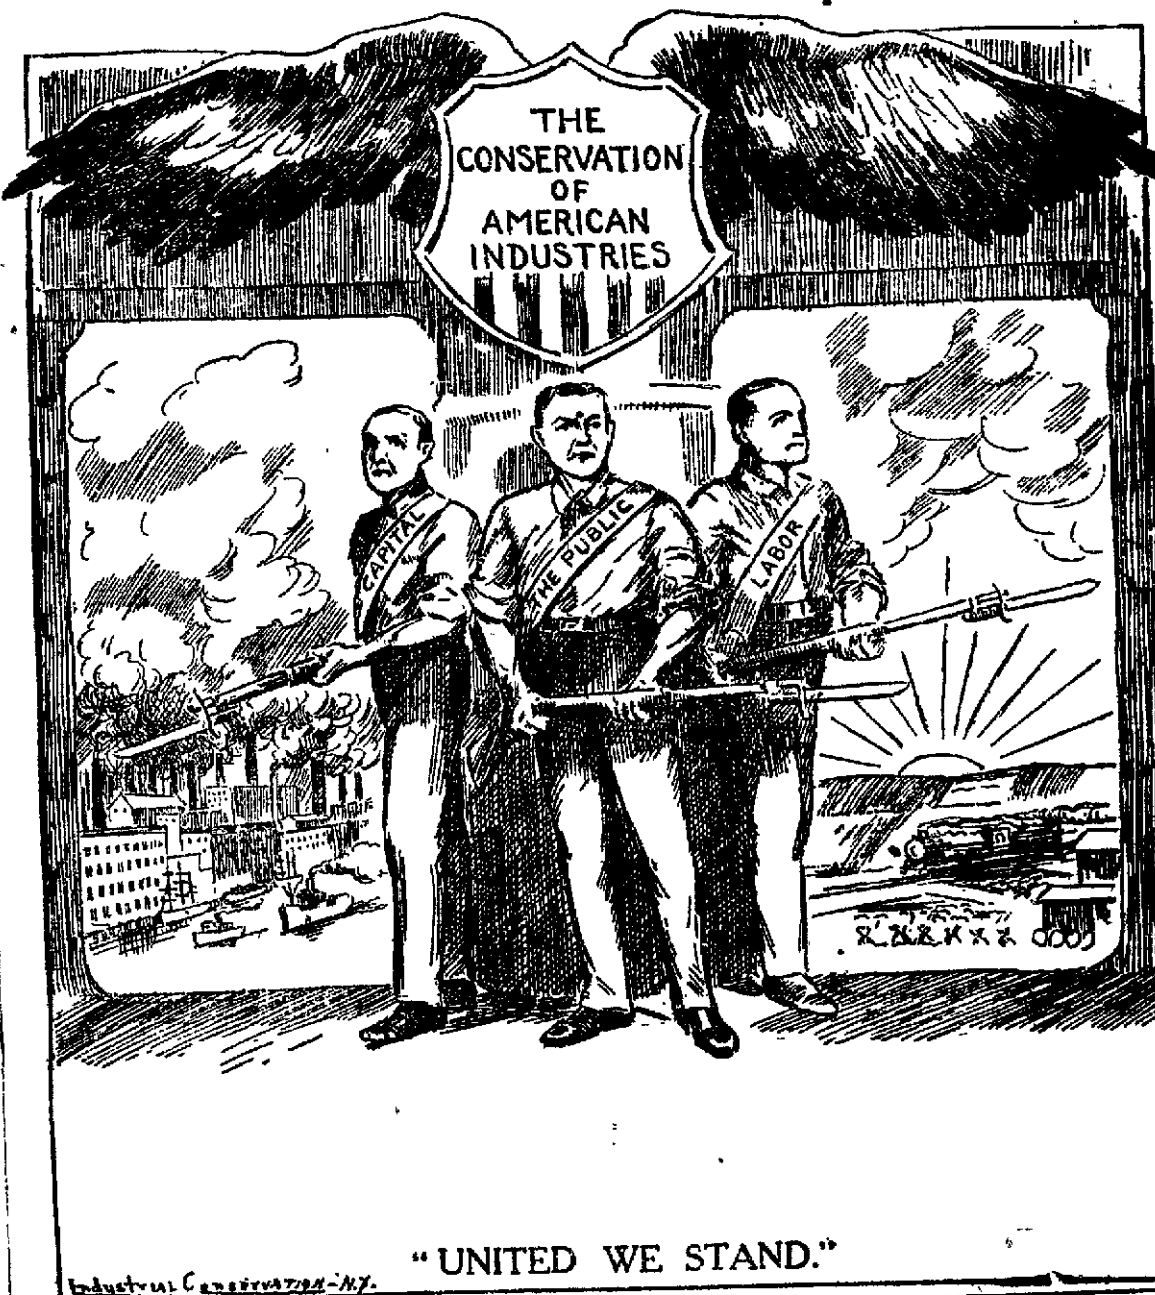

The farmer has dreamed for years of something that would give him and his family relief from the dim oil lamp which has been the direct cause of so much eye strain in these days of magazines, newspapers and school books which entail night reading. His wife too has dreamed of someday being relieved of the necessity of the dangerous filling of oil lamps and the nasty job of washing sooty chimneys and trimming wicks.

Dreams are always coming true. Necessity for something better has forced son invention to create and build up a machine that any man can set in his cellar and make his own light with at cost that is ridiculously low compared with the convenience it renders.

Experiments have given way to tried machines and a firm is now manufacturing a miniature light town brethren.

plant that is enjoying a universal reputation as a success. It is little larger than a common force pump and at a slight cost will produce real electric light for the farmer's house, barn and garage if he has one. The power comes from storage batteries and the owner recharges his own batteries. It would be just the thing for a hunting camp or a summer home in the country where the town man could enjoy the pure air and water and yet enjoy one of the greatest of city conveniences—good light.

Only recently the Electric Supply company put one of these machines in operation in their show window and it has brought forth the admiration of every farmer who has inspected it. Many are looking into its merits and it is predicted that it will be only a short time until the country estates of Clearfield county will be enjoying electric lights with their

URGES EVERYONE TO QUICKLY GET ON WATER WAGON

Drink glass of hot water before breakfast to wash out poisons

To see the tinge of health bloom in your face, to see your skin grow clearer and clearer, to wake up without a headache, backache, coated tongue or a nasty breath, in fact to feel your best, day in and day out, just try inside-bathing every morning for one week.

Before breakfast each day drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it as a harmless means of washing from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will cost very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, sweetens and freshens the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the blood and internal organs. Those who are subject to constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, rheumatic twinges, also those whose skin is sallow and complexion pallid, are assured that one week of inside-bathing will have them both looking and feeling better in every way.

"THE COMBAT"

Special at the Globe Theatre Today
One of the greatest film productions of the Vitaphone Blue Ribbon service with Anita Stewart in the leading role.

It is a portrayal of the time old fight of mind against heart dictates. The two forces woven from a different fabric—two hearts that beat out of tune.

Her mother bartered her to this man for his social position and her debts. But the girl's faith was with another man whom she had secretly married and who had been reported dead.

How she overcomes the misery of her home life saves her first husband from the electric chair, and finds her soul bled and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. ANOTHER FARNUM IN PHOTOPLAYS

The arrival of "Love Never Dies" in Bluebird Photoplays at the Opera House on Saturday matinee and night will introduce Franklin Farnum as a new leading man in the Bluebird organization. Mr. Farnum will support Ruth Stonehouse, star of the production, in presenting a live-act love story, inspired by Mendelssohn's "Spring Song" and directed by William Worthington.

Mr. Farnum is a brother of Dustin and William Farnum, two names familiar to "fans" who will be glad to welcome a third Farnum to the screen. Like his brothers, Franklin Farnum has made an enviable record during his appearance on the legitimate stage. Musical comedy has been his chief field of activity during the past few years. "Mine, Sherry," "The Dollar Princess," "The Only Girl," and "The Candy Shop" being plays with music in which he has more recently appeared.

His youth and manliness fitted him so exactly to the leading role of "Love Never Dies" that Bluebird secured him especially to support Miss Stonehouse in the forthcoming feature. He makes an ideal type of hero, interpreting the role of a violinist who played, as a child, his favorite instrument that his little sweetheart might dance upon the village green to the music of "Spring Song."

The passing years carried the little sweethearts apart but they met later under unusual circumstances, and then came a renewal of their childhood affection for each other. That there was opposition to their fervid love-plans made no difference to them. In spite of fractured ethics, they graphed some beautiful scenes, and created an entertainment of blissful love. Then came a sudden change, and more years of separation, and heart aches for the

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea. and Sulphur. Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 50 cents. Everybody has this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Leon Cheney Brothers, the Curtis Publishing Company, the Bethlehem Steel Company, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, the Eastman Kodak Company, any one of the leading railroad companies, the principal banks, Wanamaker's, or any of a host of other concerns which has developed activities of the sort. There is hardly a concern in the country doing business on a fairly extensive scale that has not initiated some form of industrial betterment for its employees. The honors do not go to the larger companies exclusively either, for many of the smaller business units have developed this side of their activities to a remarkable extent. Naturally it is easier for the larger corporations to put highly trained specialists in charge of the various branches of industrial betterment work.

The fundamentals of industrial betterment are observed in furnishing pleasant, sanitary, safe working conditions. Educational and entertainment features, facilities for study and recreation, special opportunities for the exercise of thrift and provisions tending to remove the dread of and to mitigate the suffering occasioned by sickness, disability or invalidity are matters which next require attention. Well lighted, well ventilated and otherwise pleasant and safe working places, rest rooms, emergency kits and first aid kits, club rooms, assembly rooms, gymnasiums, lockers and bathing facilities, recreation grounds, bonus and profit sharing plans, special housing accommodations, facilities for the purchase of homes on easy payments, discounts in the purchase of goods, industrial and other educational classes, lectures for entertainment or instruction, moving pictures, excursions, field days, medical attendance, safety committees for accident and fire prevention, sickness, disability and invalidity funds, insurance or benefit associations and pensions are some of the customary features of industrial betterment work the variety of which has no limit.

Tens of thousands of lives are saved each year and hundreds of thousands of lesser accidents are prevented annually through the accident prevention campaign and feature of industrial betterment.

The Eastman Kodak Company in five years reduced the accidents in its plants by over 70 per cent per annum through a progressive safety campaign. The Pennsylvania Railroad in ten months decreased the serious injuries of its 33,242 shop employees over 63 per cent by the installation of safety devices and by the constant instruction of the workmen in exercising due caution. As a result of its safety campaign the United States Steel Corporation reduced serious and fatal accidents in its various plants by 46 per cent since 1906. Each year 2,500 of the men employed by the corporation escape how would have been injured under the previous conditions.

SHAKE-UP IN WESTERN GOLF

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 19.—According to opinions expressed by delegates already in town a strong dose of "pep" is likely to be injected into the Western Golf association when it meets in its annual session here tomorrow. For some time past there is said to have existed considerable dissatisfaction over the manner in which the association has controlled, or failed to control, the sport in the territory over which it exercises jurisdiction. The election of a clean slate of officers and the adoption of an aggressive policy are expected to be a part of the reorganization plan. In addition to transacting other business the meeting will be called upon to select the courses for the championship tournaments to be held this year.

Women in Switzerland are agitating for the communal vote. A measure to grant them the desired privilege has been introduced in the cantonal parliament of Zerne.

THE VALUE OF MONEY

Little as one may think of it, the value of money is often determined by the use to which it is put by its owner. Some people, as you often hear, do not value money highly either by reason of the fact that they inherited it or it comes easy to them.

But the woman who must make her weekly or monthly allowance cover her household needs and possibly clothes realizes the value of money and how it applies to the purchasing ability of its owner. Such women as these are quick to realize the buying advantages provided during the present month at this store.
